

Stereotypes Scenarios

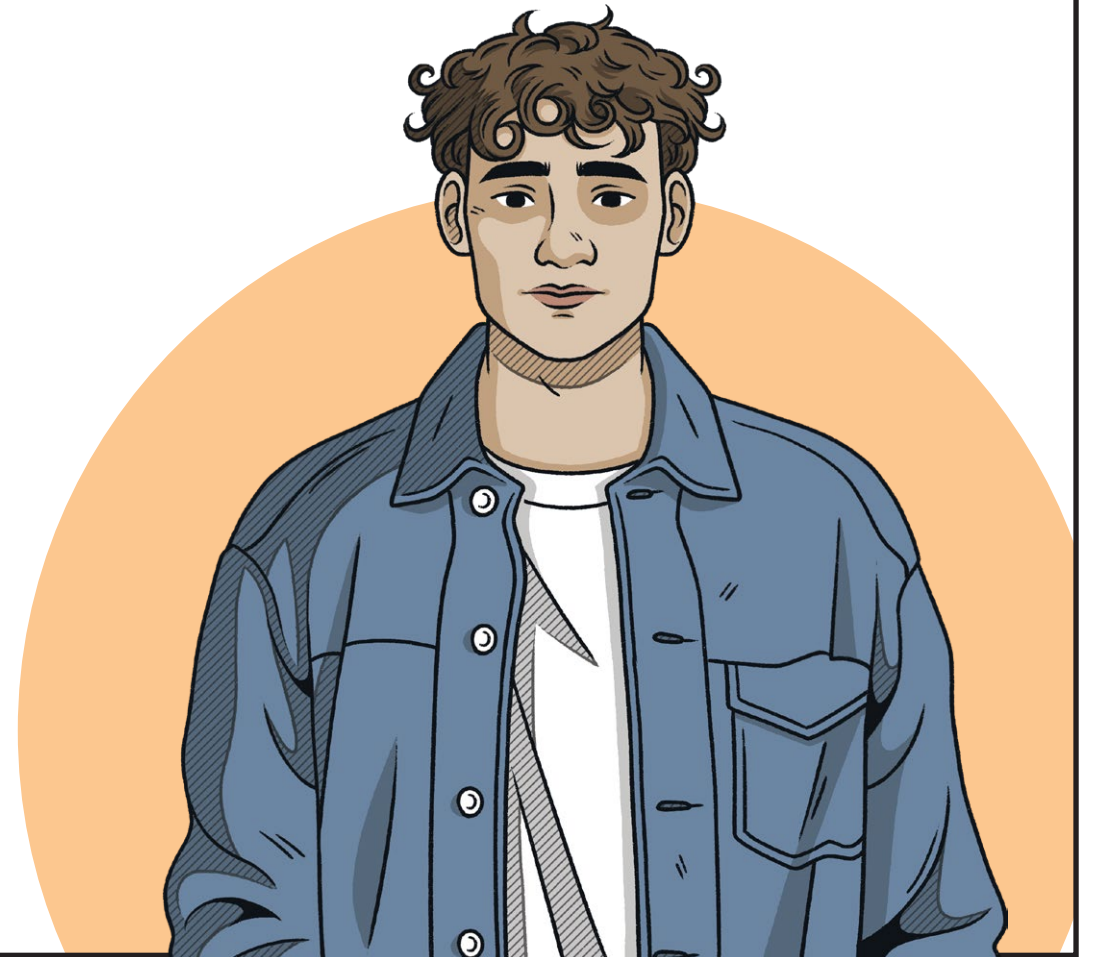

For each scenario, identify the stereotype and explain how this is damaging.

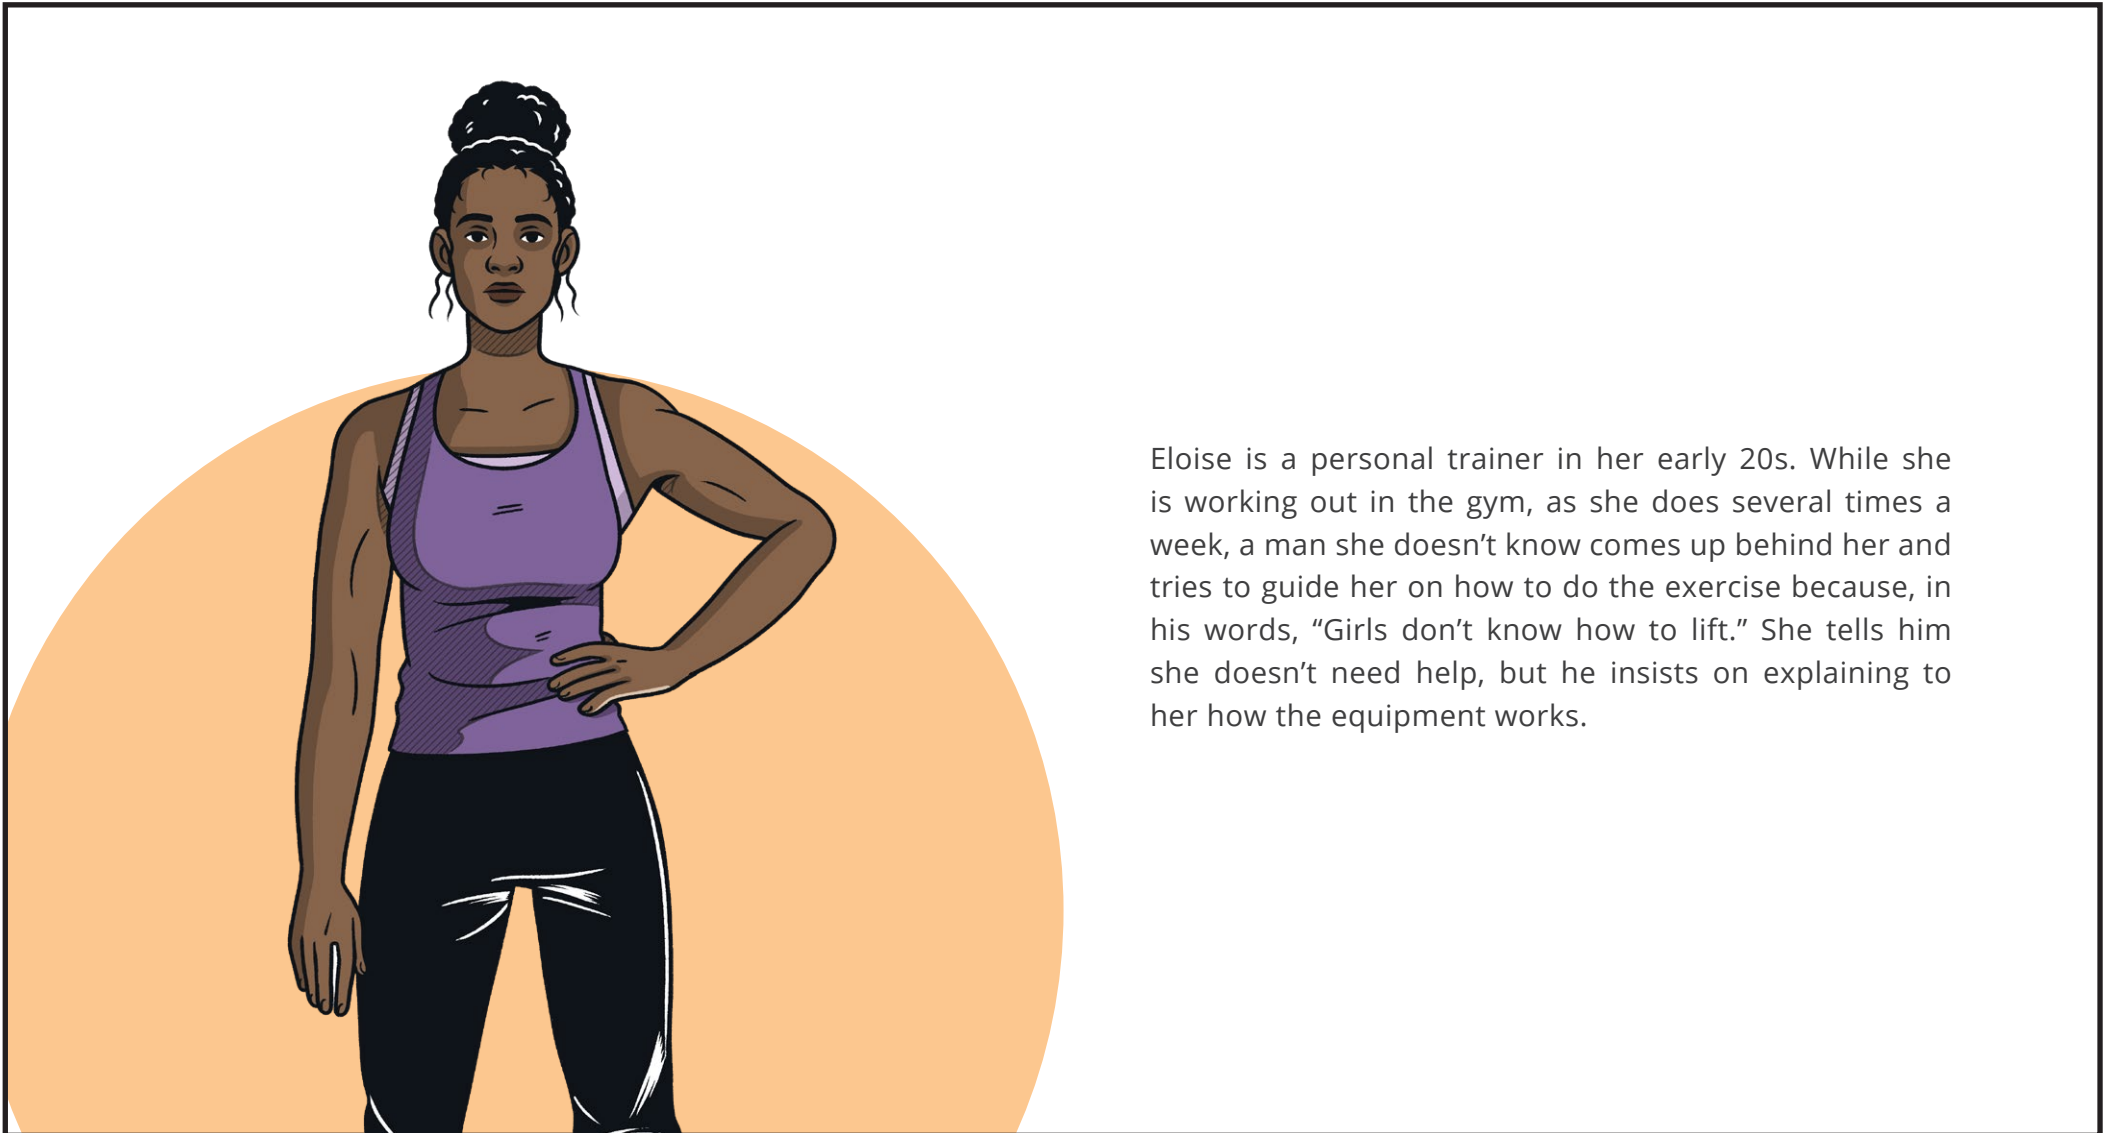

Charlie is 22 years old and uses a wheelchair. While queueing at the checkout in a supermarket, the person standing behind Charlie pushes their wheelchair without permission to move them towards the till, even though Charlie is able to do this themselves. Later, in the car park, the same person tries to take Charlie's wheelchair and put it in the boot of the car while they are manoeuvring themselves into the driving seat.

Stereotypes Scenarios

Jake is 19 years old and identifies as gay, which he has previously disclosed to his GP. While attending a routine doctor's appointment for his asthma, the GP offers Jake condoms and a medication called PrEP, which prevents the spread of HIV, even though Jake is not sexually active and has not asked for advice about sexual health.

Stereotypes Scenarios

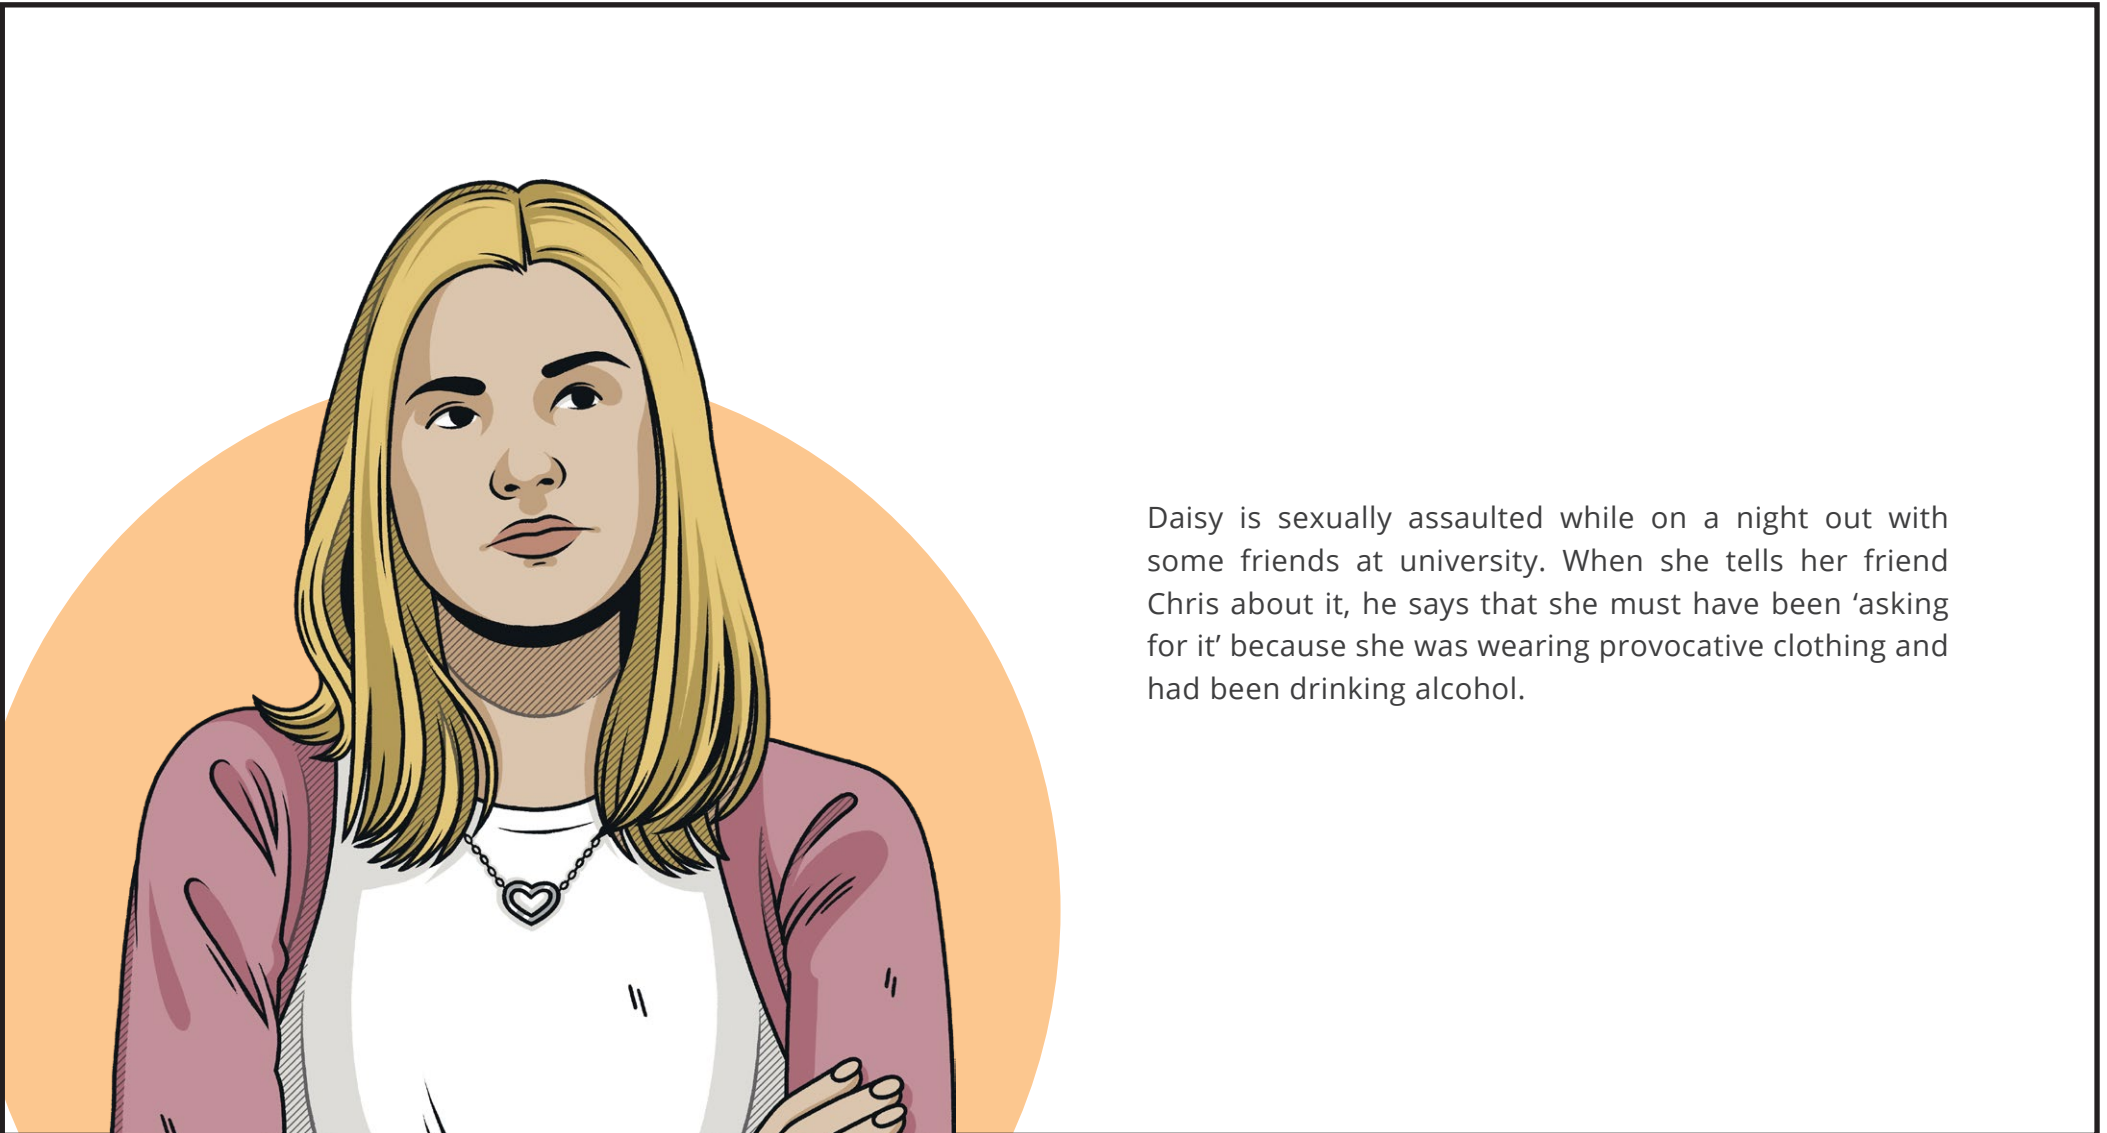

Eloise is a personal trainer in her early 20s. While she is working out in the gym, as she does several times a week, a man she doesn't know comes up behind her and tries to guide her on how to do the exercise because, in his words, "Girls don't know how to lift." She tells him she doesn't need help, but he insists on explaining to her how the equipment works.

Stereotypes Scenarios

Jonathan is an Asian man in his 30s. He is a follower of Sikhism and wears a turban. While going through airport security to catch a flight for a business trip, Jonathan is pulled aside for further searches, while his colleagues are allowed straight through. Jonathan overhears the security guard say to his colleague, "You can't be too careful with people who wear those things."

Stereotypes Scenarios

Daisy is sexually assaulted while on a night out with some friends at university. When she tells her friend Chris about it, he says that she must have been 'asking for it' because she was wearing provocative clothing and had been drinking alcohol.

Fatima is a Muslim woman and wears a hijab. She has recently started a new role as a consultant surgeon. When she goes to assess a new patient at the hospital, the patient speaks over her to the nurse on duty and asks for a White male doctor instead.
